

Everybody's Golf 2 - review

Written by Ken Edwards
Monday, 14 July 2008 18:00

{mosimage}

Anyone who has read my review of Everybody's Golf World Tour that has recently been released for the PS2. The beauty of the franchise is not the number of modes that it has or the endless list of options or the countless characters. There are two methods of playing the game online. Tournament and Match play where up to 16 players can play. There are about 12 new characters that have been added to the game since the previous title and about 100 new items. You also get to unlock things which improve your skill which means better shots, power and spin abilities. With all the things you have to unlock etc you could literally be playing this game for weeks, maybe months. Graphically it is the same colourful courses that experienced players are used to with the cute characters. Sound wise there is a great vocal soundtrack as well as music that is very fitting for the title and excellent. Overall if you have played the game before then you really know what to expect here. It is everything that you need. Excellent – go out and buy it now

Developer:

Clap Hanz

{mosimage}

Publisher:

Sony

Everybody's Golf 2 - review

Written by Ken Edwards
Monday, 14 July 2008 18:00

{mosimage}

Genre:

Sports

Release Date:

07/08

Everybodys Golf 2 - PSP

	Bonus Points	Score
	N
	FF
Graphics		8.5
	1	0
Sound		7.0	0	0
Gameplay		9.0
	1	0
Replay/Multiplayer		9.0	1	0

Everybody's Golf 2 - review

Written by Ken Edwards
Monday, 14 July 2008 18:00

Story/Immersion	9.0	1	0
Base Score
42.5	4
0

Final Score
89%

(Final Score = Base Score X2 + Bonus Points)
See how our scoring system works